

Spring is in the Air: SVS in concert

WILLIAMSBURG — Tired of those winters blues? Then get ready to welcome spring back with beautiful music performed by the Seaway Valley Singers.

The 33 voice choir will present their annual concert on Friday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Christian Reformed Church in Williamsburg. 'Spring is in the Air' will celebrate the arrival of warm sunny days with music both classical and popular.

The Seaway Valley Singers present two full concerts a year, their well loved Christmas show, and this, their eagerly anticipated Spring show. MC for the evening will be Wendy Gibb.

Directed by Robert Jones, with musical direction by Margaret Whisselle, the Singers have been preparing an outstanding concert evening for the audience. This will be a varied programme featuring classic Spirituals, favourites like 'Bridge Over Troubled Waters' and Woody Guthrie's 'Gonna Get Through this World,' and music from the spectacular Leonard Bernstein production, 'West Side Story.' And in honour of King Charles III, the choir will also sing Handel's powerful 'Zadok the Priest,' which has been performed at every coronation since 1727.

The audience can also look forward to another musical highlight at this spring concert. The Seaway Valley Singers are proud and delighted to welcome pianist Nicolas Howard, winner of the 2023 SVS musical bursary, to the stage. Nicolas will perform pieces by Franz Liszt and Oscar Peterson.

'Spring is in the Air,' the May 12, 2023, concert by the Seaway Valley Singers will be a wonderful event for all ages. Tickets are $15 in advance, or $20 at the door, with a student price of $10. Children under 12 may attend free of charge. Don't miss this glorious musical celebration of the spring season by our very talented Seaway Valley Singers.
