Established in 1993, Seaway Valley Singers is a non-profit organization based in Williamsburg whose members, as the name suggests, come from throughout the Seaway Valley. The first director of the Seaway Valley Singers was Michael Goodwin. Alex Thomson took over in 2000, followed by Mark Ehlebrecht for the 2003-2004 season. The current conductor, Robert Jones, has been leading the choir since 2004 and celebrated his 20th anniversary at the helm last year. Seaway Valley Singers strives to provide members with the opportunity to improve their singing skills by learning and singing choral music, both sacred and secular, for the entertainment of the general public.

New members are welcomed at the beginning of each of the fall and winter sessions. Rehearsals are held every Wednesday evening (7:30 – 9:30 p.m.) here at the Christian Reformed Church in Williamsburg. The next session will begin on Wednesday, January 7, 2026.
