

Singers return in support of Ukraine

WILLIAMSBURG – The community will be delighted to hear that, after nearly two years, the Seaway Valley Singers will at last be returning to the musical stage with a very special spring concert, in support of a very special cause.

The Singers' performance, on Friday, June 10 at 7:30 p.m., at the Williamsburg Christian Reformed Church, is dedicated to raising funds for the Red Cross Humanitarian Crisis in Ukraine. Admission to this Spring 2022 concert will be a freewill tax-deductible offering at the door.

Under the direction of Robert Jones, the Seaway Valley Singers are planning an exciting musical program for this Spring event, with selections ranging from Leonard Cohen, to the Beatles and Elton John. Spirituals and the glorious music of Beethoven will also delight listeners. And, in keeping with the Singers' hope of helping those in desperate need in Ukraine, they will also perform the beautiful 'Ukrainian Prayer,' arranged and donated to humanity by the noted composer, John Rutter.

To ensure everyone's comfort and safety, the choir invites guests at the concert to wear a mask.

Don't miss this opportunity to enjoy the first Seaway Valley Singers concert of the 2022 season. Wonderful voices raised in song will make this performance, in aid of the humanitarian crisis in Ukraine, truly a night to remember.

Seaway Valley Singers concert

WILLIAMSBURG – The community is eagerly looking forward to the Seaway Valley Singers first live concert in close to two years. This popular and talented group of local singers, under the direction of Robert Jones, will be appearing at the Williamsburg Christian Reformed Church this Friday, June 10, at 7:30 pm.

For this first show, the Singers are not selling tickets. Instead, admission is through a free will donation at the door: funds raised by the concert are going to the Red Cross Humanitarian Crisis in Ukraine.

The night's musical program will be an exciting and varied one: selections will range from Elton John to classic Beatles, from Beethoven to Leonard Cohen. A high point of the concert will be the Singers' performance of composer John Rutter's beautiful 'Ukrainian Prayer.'

To ensure everyone's comfort and safety, the audience is asked to wear masks during the performance. Music and voices raised in song are finally returning to our community, through the hard work and talents of our local artists, the Seaway Valley Singers.
