

Seaway Valley Singers award bursaries in music

As part of the program at the annual spring concert, Oh Canada, This Land of Ours, presented by the Seaway Valley Singers on Friday, May 5, vice president Isabelle Delage presented two bursaries, each worth $250, to young people planning to go into music at university in the fall. The two recipients, Conor Veinotte and Kayla Droppo, joined director Robert Jones and members of the Singers, as well as concert guest performers, at the end of the evening. Back row, 1-r, are Isabelle Delage, choir president Annette McRae, accompanist Margaret Whisselle, and trumpet soloist, Shawn Snider. In front, from the left, are Conor Veinotte, director Robert Jones, Kayla Droppo, and guest flautist, Colleen Leslie, music teacher at Seaway. (The Leader/Gibb photo.)

Spring 2017